THURSDAY, MAY 23, 1872.

RALEIGH T. DANIEL'S POSITION. -In a late speech delivered at a Ward Meeting in Richmond, the Richmond correspondent of the Petersburg Index says that Mr. Raleigh T. Daniel said "he had no doubt that all good Conservatives would have to vote for Greeley in the next Presidential election. He added that if the election of a Democratic President were now possible, it would not be desirable, because he would be in the same impotent position occupied by Andrew Johnson, without power to turn a wheel, all the other co-ordinate branches of the government being in Republican hands. He was, therefore, in favor of Mr. Greeley, especially as Mr. Greeley had shown himself'a friend to the South in several momentous crises of her history. He particularly instanced 1869 and the Underwood constitution, when Mr. Greeley was a power behind the throne. Mr. Daniel said that it was within his personal knowledge that Mr. Greeley had then exerted his great influence with President Grant to procure his favor and recommendation in behalf of the pian of separate voting on the more objectionable features of that constitution, whereby it was made tolerable to us. Mr. Daniel also referred to a personal interview he had had with Mr. Greeley when he was here to bail Mr. Jefferson Davis. The interview took place in the presence of Mr. Davis, and Mr. Greeley then emphatically and indignantly reprobated the oppression and misgovernment to which the South was subjected under military supremacy and the so-called reconstruction laws. Mr. Daniel said, too, that Mr. Greeley would have appeared on the stump for Walker in Virginia in 1869 but for ill-

The last number of the Westminster Review has a legal article, which, whatever may be thought of the opinion of the author, is written with much ability and has attracted much attention. The conclusion reached by the reviewer is that "neither for suitability to ordinary nor to political occurrences does trial by jury merit the panegyries commonly lavished upon it; it is time that the public mind should be more awake to its many deficiencies and to the greater claims on their confidence of a brained Judge, superior alike in experience in the responsibility of his position, and in freedom from popular prejudice."

Mr. Sumner is very indignant that the Senate should have passed, in his absence, his "Civil Rights" bill with an amendment strik- Cloud, who have come to apologize for the acts ing out one of its objectionable provisions. He of twenty unruly subjects of the Ogallala band voted against Amnesty because thereof. A colored man, Geo. T. Downing, in a letter in the Washington Chronicle, is, also, very irate. He says "he has been stabbed in the House of eight o'clock for Alexandria, giving all who dehis friends"-and that "his manhood is humil-

After a session of nearly twenty four hours, the Senate passed the Ku-Klux bill yesterday morning by a vote of nearly two to one-28 to 15. There is no real good reason, whatever, for passing this bill, continuing the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus. It is a base political movement to manacle the South. We are glad to see it stated that it will probably not pass the House of Representatives.

A Richmond (Va.) dispatch says that with a view to healing the dissensions in the Radical ranks in the State, a large delegation of Virginians from different parts of the State have been invited to Washington, and will hold an interview with the President on Saturday next. Among the names of those invited are General Wickham, Judge Rives, Col. R. W. Hughes, James F. Johnson, W. T. Early, &c.

In the Senate, yesterday, in Mr. Sumner's absence, his Civil Rights bill was adopted, with an amendment striking out all that portion rolating to schools, churches and cemeteries. As it now stands it prohibits any discrimination between white and colored persons only in hotels, places of amusements, on railroads, steamboats and stages. The bill has gone to the House, but may not be acted on there.

The Washington Patriot says :- "The letter of Mr. Greeley, accepting the Cincinnati nomination, is, in the main, candid, direct, and unobjectionable from his political standpoint. In some respects, the nine points into which Mr. | control of the Senate and House of Represen-Greeley has condensed the thirteen articles of tatives of the United States. We can not the Cincinnati platform are more acceptable than the original form."

The President has appointed Thos P. Robb, late Collector of Customs at Savannah, Fabius J. Meade. Mississippi, and Richard H. Savage, California, Commissioners, under the joint resolution of Congress, to examine and inquire into the depredations, alleged to have been committed upon the frontier of Texas, for several years past, by bands of Indians and Mexicans.

A most excited debate took place yesterday in the French National Assembly in regard to the corruption alledged to have existed in the body has been marked with more harmony. late war contracts. The occasion was embraced | Many very important changes were made in by Pasquier for a most vigorous denunciation of Napoleon, and the Empire was called upon to "restore to France her logions has provinced to France her logions has provinced to Essay the session was brief but very laborious. Afand her glory."

We are glad to see that many of our Virgin ia Conservative exchanges are counselling moderation in relation to the Presidential election, in the present condition of affairs. It is all important to effect a combination of all the elements of opposition in order to make a successful campaign against Grant.

The Washington correspondent of the Balti more Sun, says:-"The prospect of the ratification of the supplemental article is improving,

The Washington Chronicle mentions as a matter worthy of remark and commendation, that at the night session of the Senate on Tuesday night, "not a person could be found perceptibly under the influence of intoxicating drink!" It "congratulates the country and Congress on this gratifying circumstance! Well! It is something that the country can be congratulated upon anything! Though it is rather strange that it should be noted as remarkable that one night session of the Senate has been held, and everybody reported as rectus, pellucid and sober!

The work of the Senate on Tuesday and yesterday, it is said, renders it comparatively easy for Congress to adjourn by June 3d. The appropriation bills will not be in the way. The only obstacle now is the tariff bill.

The appropriation bill, now before the House of Representatives, contains an item for an appropriation of $9,000 for a light at the entrance of the anchorage inside of Shipping Point, Potomac river. The Secretary of the Treasury has been re quested to investigate the charges of official corruption which Mr. Farnsworth has made against Mr. Mullett, the Supervising Architect of the Treasury.

The Loudoun County Republican says that Judge Ball, of Loudoun, has decided that "a separate ballot must be used in voting on the proposed amendment for striking out the Usury clause from the Constitution.

At the annual meeting of the Texas Pacific Railroad, Thomas A. Scott was elected President, Henry G. Stebbins, Vice President, and Edwards Peirpoint, Treasurer.

The supplementary apportionment act, allowing nine States an additional Representative to the number provided by the act passed this session, was agreed to by the Senate, yesterday.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.-The wind storm which prevailed yesterday was accompanied by copious showers of rain, and was very destructive to the foliage of the public parks. Some of the tallest and handsomest trees in the vicinity of the President's House were torn up bodily by the roots. The destruction of shrubbery was quite extensive.

Arrangements have been made by which a boat will leave Washington on Friday night at sire to attend the Masonic fair and festival an opportunity to do so. Returning, the boat will leave Alexandria at half-past eleven. The cost of the round trip will be twenty-five cents.

Yesterday afternoon the steamer John Gibson, from New York, brought for the museum of the Smithsonian Institution the skins of the following animals, mounted and ready for exhibition: A Polar bear; Rocky Mountain sheep, a buffalo, an American elk, a Lapland reindeer, a walrus, and a number of rare fishes, including several gigantic white sharks.

Letter from Mr. Braxton.

The following letter, which came to hand, unfortunately, late-contains the views of the Hon. E. M. Braxton, Representative of the Fredericksburg District.

Mr. Braxton anticipated the action of the Executive Committee in calling a State Convention, and, as will be seen, he lays great stress upon the importance of preserving unity in our State organization. - Petersburg Index WASHINGTON, May 16 1872.

DEAR SIR :- In reply to your letter touching Presidential matters. I would merely say, that the peace and quiet of the Virginia people, should be the first consideration with all that feel a sincere interest in their happiness, and as the welfare of Virginia greatly depends upon he supremacy of the Conservative party within her limits, nothing should be done, or left unregarded that would lead to a division of that party, and thereby place power once more in the hands of the Radical party. Virginia is now in the Federal Union, where in my opinion she will remain; she must nevertheless. think, act and take care of herself, in accordance with her own judgment, as to what will best promote her domestic tranquillity and future prosperity. Virginia's interest should not be jeopardized by a national question, the solution of which can be of little advantage to her people, so long as the Radical party maintain the afford to lose the control of our State no matter who is President. It seems to me therefore in view of the Presidential surroundings, a State Convention of the Conservative party should be called, to give expression to the feelings, sentiments and desires of our people whose judgment and decision, I am sure, will be accepted by every true son of Virginia, as the path of duty in this important period of our country's history. Very truly yours, ELLIOTT M. BRAXTON.

About three years ago Rev. Dr. J. M. Mitchell, of Maine, assumed the rectorship of Christ Church, Savannah, Ga. During some time past reports of immoral conduct against him have been current, which finally led to investigation, and that to his deposition. On the 19th instant Bishop Beckwith of Georgia, aunounced, during the service at Chist Church, the removal of Rev. Dr. J. M. Mitchell, for gross immoral conduct.

A defalcation in the office of E. P. Selmser & Co., New York has caused some excitement. The entire loss to the bankers will amount to $38,800. The total loss to the customers of the house, who had money with the firm on deposit as margin for stock operations, will amount to about $10,000. The cause of the failure was unprofitable stock speculations made by E. R. McElvain, one of the partners vantageously situted. of the house, who suddenly disappeared.

STRAWBERRIES AND PEAS. - A nove! scene was exhibited on Market square yesterday afternoon. Some thirty-five or forty wagons, loaded with strawberries and peas, were crowded together near the ferry wharf. So great was the rush that one of the wagons was driven against another and completely "telescoped, and the mules drawing it were slightly injured. On inquiring the cause of all this crushing and jamming together of wagons we learned that they had come from the wharf of the New York steamer, which was loaded to her fullest capacity and could take on no more cargo. -These wagons were awaiting their turn to be carried over to Portmouth for the transfer of their loads to the Baltimore and Philadelphia

We are informed that the ferry gates on the Portsmouth side were closed so as not to allow the egress of wagons-the Baltimore boat having on a full load. A large quantity of straw-berries and peas was left behind. These will be shipped to-day. Later in the season all these berries would be spoiled before they reached New York, but there is not much danger of this now. We will soon be in the height of the trucking season and it will be necessary for our truckers to have every facility for the shipment of their produce. We hope we shall not again hear of such a state of affairs as that which existed yesterday afternoon. - Norfolk Journal.

COMMUTING SENTENCES.-The Richmond correspondent of the Petersburg Index says "Gov. Walker on Saturday determined to commute the sentence of Laurence Murphy, a Richmond man, from 3 years' confinement in the Penitentiary to 12 months' confinement in jail, but the question was raised whether he could do so, constitutionally, and action has been suspended for the opinion of the Attorney General. The constitution says, section 5, Art. IV, that the Governor "shall have power to remit fines and penalties, in such cases and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the law and except when the prosecution has been carried on by the House of Delegates, to grant reprieves and pardons after conviction; to remove political disabilities consequent upon conviction for offences committed prior or subsequent to the adoption of this constitution, and to commute capital punishment; but he shall communicate to the General Assembly, at each session the particulars of every case of fine or penalty remitted, of reprieve or pardon granted and punishment commuted with his reason for remitting, granting or commuting the same." The sentences of other prisoners sentenced to the Penitentiary of late years and since the adoption of this constitution, have been commuted to confinement in jail, and the constitutionality of so doing has n ver before

THE BOUNDARY LINE. - The commissioners appointed to establish the line between Maryland and Virginia, met at Crisfield yesterday 22d instant, for the purpose of making another effort at a settlement of the matter. It is conceded by both sides that the beginning of the original line was at a place called Watkins' Point. But where is this Watkins Point? The Crisfield (Maryland) Leader explains the conflicting views of the commissioners on the Maryland and Virginia boundary, as follows: "The Maryland commissioners say that the true Watkins' Point is what is now known as Fox's Island, and is situated a few miles below Crisfield, while Mr. Wise (for Virginia) claims that what is now known as Jame's Point is the locality in question. If the latter can establish their claim, then a part of Crisfield, with its
